

Sprint Retrospective 14

Wednesday, March 23, 2022

7:03 PM

What good?

- text messages are good for updates
- The text messages for daily standups improve accountability and allows us to help better.

What bad?

- Some of us are not being descriptive enough. When nothing was done obviously this does not need elaboration.

What changes?

- General tasks discussed in the Daily Standup should be specific.
 - At least have the full title of the task, any concerns with progress, and a realistic estimation for how much progress can be done, otherwise if not stated then the task is expected to be fully complete.